A BRIEF HISTORY OF SKIING EVENTS IN HOLMENKOLLEN

THE FIRST SKI JUMPING COMPETITION

The first ski jumping competition in Holmenkollen took place in 1892. The athletes had to master both cross-country skiing and ski jumping, as was usual at the time. The competition consisted of an 18 km cross-country race on Saturday 30 January and a ski-jumping competition on 31 January. The event had been moved from Husebybakken, further down the hill, due to lack of snow. However, the conditions for the cross-country race were poor in Holmenkollen as well, and the fall rate on the ski jump was as high as 73%. Nevertheless, 12,000 spectators came to witness the event. The ski jump was constructed from branches and covered in snow. The longest jump at the time was recorded at 21.5 meters, though it was not until 1933 that an exclusive ski jumping competition was introduced.

After the second world war, in 1946, ski jumping events started to attract vast crowds, exceeding 100,000 people for the first time. The biggest crowd to ever have been recorded was during the Olympic ski jumping competition in 1952, with 120,000 spectators surrounding the arena.

In 1901, a 30 km cross-country race was added to the program, only to be replaced by a 50 km event the following year. Slalom and downhill racing were introduced for the first time in 1947, with giant slalom being added in 1951. The slalom event was organized in Rødkleiva (Oslo) and the giant slalom and downhill events in Norefjell (county of Buskerud).

MASS START

There were skiing competitions in Finland and Sweden as well, most commonly 60 km or 90 km, but in a very different terrain. In Finland, the slopes often crossed lakes and rivers, whereas in Sweden they preferred roads. Another difference was that in Sweden and Finland the prevailing competition style was mass start. In Norway they used interval start.

As of 1982, the Holmenkollen cross-country competitions have been part of the FIS World Cup. Since 2010, the 30 km and 50 km races in Holmenkollen have been mass starts.

FEMALE COMPETITORS

With the introduction of the slalom event, female competitors were able to join the Holmenkollen skiing event for the first time. The first official cross-country competition for women, a 10 km race, took place in 1954. This was the only women's event until 1966 when as part of the world championships the distances of 5 km, 10 km and 3x5 km relay were added. The 20 km race in Holmenkollen was introduced in 1981, and since 1988 (except for 1989-1994), the 30 km has been part of the program.

In 2001, the first female ski jumping event was held in the Midtstuen ski jumping hill.
